

Fevola's back in his own Territory

EIGHT months after signing off from his debut NTFL season with nine goals in Waratahs' losing elimination final, Brendan Fevola is back in Territory football.

The 31-year-old goalkicking machine will reunite with his Waratahs teammates in Sunday's big clash against St Marys at Gardens Oval.

"He cancelled other plans he had this weekend to chase a kick in Darwin.

"We're rapt about that," Waratahs president Leigh Jennings said last night.

"We'll possibly get Waylon Manson as well if (coach) Brenton Toy reckons he's fit enough to go around with Fev.

"It should be a fantastic atmosphere down at Gardens with Fev in our side and Saints in a run of good form."

Fevola kicked 49 goals in six games last season, and he will be keen to add to that total against an airtight St Marys back line.

Luke Stapleton has been named at full back for Sunday's 4pm game, but John Anstess, Iggy Vallejo, Kelvin Williams and Kevin Tandogac are other options set to play on a rampaging Fevola.

A three-time All-Australian and dual Coleman Medallist in his 187 games for Carlton, Fevola finally cracked it for a senior flag this year when his team, the Yarrowonga Pigeons, won the Ovens and Murray premiership.

He booted 110 goals for the Pigeons and even managed a cameo appearance for Hawthorn great Peter Hudson's former side New Norfolk in Tasmania's Southern League.

His 18 goals for New Norfolk set a new club record, something Waratahs would love to see happen on Sunday.

Brendan Fevola will line up for Waratahs against St Marys on Sunday

Intrigue lingers over Campbell

THE return of a goalkicking legend and a possible injection of more AFL talent headlines team selections in Round 6 of the 2012-13 NTFL season.

Brendan Fevola's return to the Waratahs goalsquare has been locked in.

But questions remain on when Waylon Manson will make his comeback in a red and white jumper.

St Marys lost spearhead Matt Ferguson but regained midfielder Karl Lohde for Sunday's big game at Gardens Oval.

Darwin kept everyone guessing when they did not name former North Melbourne goalsneak Matt Campbell in their starting 22 for tomorrow's clash with Wanderers at Gardens Oval.

That was despite suggestions Campbell would be playing in the 2.30pm clash as he waits for the main AFL draft and the rookie and pre-season drafts in December.

The Buffaloes are starting to stampede after some fine games against Banks and Southern Districts and will fancy their chances against a Wanderers side without several of their big names.

Aaron Motlop is out of the Eagles side with a leg injury and Shannon Motlop, Adam Cook and Bobby McCallum are all unavailable.

Relton "Scooby" Roberts will play his 100th NTFL game after a career with the Eagles, Nightcliff and Southern Districts.

Ladder leaders the Tiwi Bombers got star duo Ross Tungatalum and Simon Munkara back for tomorrow's game against Southern Districts at TIO Stadium.

Districts have added Brisbane premiership player Des Headland to their starting 22.

Tassie basketballer rebounds to the Crows

A SECOND Tasmanian basketballer has jumped codes and joined the AFL ranks as clubs continue to raid talent from other sports.

After News Limited revealed in September that former AIS basketball scholarship holder Ben Richmond was being hunted by Collingwood, Jack Osborn - who stands at 210cm and 102kg - has now joined Adelaide.

Richmond officially signed with the Magpies last month and Osborn did likewise yesterday after being put through intensive testing in the city of churches in the past fortnight. Osborn, 22, returned home to Hobart this year after completing four years in the US college system with Adams State.
